THE SOVEREIGN BULE OF SOUTH CAROLINA Views of Southern Laws, Life, and Hospitality

Written in Charleston, S. C., by F. C. Adams.

Written in Charleston, S. C., by F. C. Adams.

THE above work forms a beautiful 12mc volume of over 300 pages, small pica. Price—in paper, 56 cents; muslin, 75 cents. The usual discount to the Trade. Orders solicited. Copies sent by mail, prepaid, any distance under 3,000 miles, for 61 cents.

The above work is a delineation of the scenes and incidents connected with the imprisonment, in 1852 of Manuel Pereira, steward of the British brig Janson, in the jail of Charleston, S. C.

The following notice of this work is copied from the National Bra of February 17:

"The above is the title of a work now in press founded upon that infamous statute of South Carolina by which her citizens claim a right to imprison colorea scamen, of all nations, and even those cast upon their shores in distress. We have perused the book in advance of its publication, and find that it gives a lifelike picture of Pereira, the vessel in which he sailed the storms she encountered, and her wrecked condition when brought into the port of Charleston, S. C.; to gether with the imprisonment of Pereira, several sea men belonging to the New England States, and two French seamen; the prison regimen, character of the Charleston police, and the mendacity of certain officials, who make the law a medium of peculation. The work is replete with incidents of Southern life and character, pointing Southerners to the things that call for correction at their own hands, with a force that cannot be mistaken. The work is written by one who has taken a prominent part in the affairs of the South and cannot fail to interest alike the general reader commercial man, and philanthropist."

NEW BOOK BY REV. JACOB ABBOTT. "ROLLO ON THE ATLANTIC,"

BEAUTIFULLY illustrated with original design D. By Jacob Abbott...
"Rollo on the Atlantic" is the first book of a series to be published under the general title of Rollo s ries to be published under the general title of Rollo's Tour in Europe.

Extract from the Preface:

"The books are intended to be books of instruction, rather than of mere amusement; and, in perusing them, the reader may feel assured that all the information which they contain, not only in respect to the sountries visited, and to the customs, usages, and modes of life that are described, but also in regard to the general character of the incidents and adventures that the young travellers meet with, is in most strict accordance with fact. The main dasign of the narrative is thus the communication of useful knowledge; and everything which they contain, except what is strictly personal, in relation to the actors in the story, may be depended upon as exactly and scrupulously true." ENGLISH LITERATURE OF THE 19TH CENTURY. New Edition. C. & J. BIDDLE, No. 6 South Fifth street, L. Philadelphia, have recently published a new stereotype edition of English Literature of the Nineteenth Century. On the plan of the author's "Compendium of English Literature," and supplementary to it. Designed for colleges and advanced classes in schools as well as takes the tory of the work:

To It is a all matter, revision.

It is a consider Prof. Chauncey A. Goodrich, D. D., of Yale College.

"I consider Prof. Cleveland's 'English Literature of the Nineteenth Century' an appropriate sequel to his 'Compendium.' The author has shown the same just and delicate appreciation of literary excellence in this, as in the former volume; and, as it reaches down to our times, it will be still more interesting to a large portion of the public, and especially to the young. Few persons can understand what an amount of reading, thought, nice discrimination, and laborious or densation of knowledge, are requisite to the production of such a work; and just in proportion as men toil more extensively in this field, will be the estimate they will put upon this result of the author's labors."

estimate they will put upon this result of the author's labors."

From George B. Emerson, Esq., of Boston.

"I have examined your 'English Literature of the Ninetsenth Century,' and I like it exceedingly It is extremely well and fairly done. The biographical notices are just and discriminating; and, while they are long coough to gratify the curiosity we have to know something of an author, they are so spirited as to awaken a desire to know more. The selections are admirable. I have adopted the work as a text book for my first class, every individual of which is now preparing, under its guidance, to give a fuller account of the writings of some one chosen author."

From Rev. B. P. Aydelott, D. D., of Cincinnati.

"I have examined with much care, and still greater pleasure, and, I trust, not a little profit, your 'English Literature of the Nineteenth Century.'

* It is, I believe, the richest collection of gems in our language. There is nothing in it I would omit, and yet it is not too large for popular use. Considering the very brief limits to which you were obliged to confine yourself, I am surprised at the fullness and richness of your biographical details. Your most difficult and deli late task, however, was the critical judgment to be passed up n each author; and here I think you have been very happy—discriminating and just, and yet kind. * But I would feel that whatever I have said about the volume, however true, ought to be considered as of little worth, could I not add—as I cheerfully do—a stro g testimony to its high moral tone and eminently Christian spirit. The general reader cannot fail to be interested, the student profited, the scholar delighted, and the man of piety pleased, with your 'English Literature of the Nineteenth Century.'

GRANVILLE INFIRMARY AND WATER CURE.

THIS Institution has been in successful operation three years, and its proprietor, having devoted twenty five years to the management of the sick, is now enabled to judiciously select, and skillfully apply, such curative agencies as are best adapted to each case. Female diseases, in all their forms, receive particular attention; and those even who have been confined to their beds from one to twenty years, with spinal, uterine, or anomalous diseases, are assured that there is still hope for them. We especially invite such to correspond with us, as unrivalled success has given us confidence of their curability. Deragement of the nervous system, liver, and digestive organs, are generally relieved. Terms, from $6 to $12 per week, according to helplessness or the amount of care required. Address

REPORMATORY PAPER FOR CHILDREN. THE JUVENILE INSTRUCTOR.

THE JUVENILE INSTRUCTOR.

Edited by Uncle Lucius, Syracuse, N. Y.

The want of a paper for children, of a reformatory character, has long been folt. The juvenile papers of our land do not meet the demands of the community. They please the eye and interest the reader, but do not instruct and enlighten the mind with reterence to the great sins of the day. Reformers! The Juvenile Instructor is intended to meet this demand. It is the paper for children—for Sabbath schools and Day schools.

The Instructor is published every other week, or twenty-six numbers per year. A new volume commences January 5, 1854. A Corresponding Editor has been secured. Her writings for children are already known and admired by many. Illustrations will be given in every number. No reasonable expense will be spared to make it attractive. Five thousand subscribers were added last year.

PROSPECTUS OF THE PROHIBITIONIST.

"If any State doesn the retail and internal traffic in ardent spirits injurious to its citizens, and calculated to produce lateness, vice, or debauchery. I see nothing in the Constitution of the United States to prevent it from regulating or restraining the traffic, or from prohibiting it altogether, if it thinks proper."

Chief Justice Tuncy.

ON or before the 1st of January, 1854, the Executive Committee of the New York State Temperrance Society with issue the first number of a Monthly Temperance Journal, under the title of "The Profile Its Rize.—It will be printed on a double medium sheet, making eight quarto pages, of four columns to a page; and excluding advertisements, each number will contain an amount of reading matter equal at least to that furnished by our larger-sized daily journals, or to that of an ordinary duodecime volume of 150 pages.

Its Object.—To advocate the Cause of Temperance generally, and especially the Legislative Prohibition of the Traffic in Intoxicating Beverages, to propare the minds of the masses for such Prohibition, by showing its expediency and Necessity, and to secure, by all the influence it may legitimately exert, the vigorous enforcement of Prohibitory Laws when obtained.

Its Field.—Dealing with general principles, with vigorous enforcement of Prohibitory Laws whon obtained.

Trs Firld.—Dealing with general principles, with arguments alike applicable to every community where the traffic exists and with facts illustrative of these arguments and principles, the paper will be National in its scope, in its purpose, and, we trust, it will be National in its circulation and influence. Such is our aim and expectation. We desire to see the Principle of Prohibition established in State after State, till it becomes the recognised policy of the Nation. It is our ambition to bear a part in this great work, and to this end The Prohibitionstri is established, not as the organ of a society merely, but of a GRKAT REFORMATORY MOVEMENT.

ITS NECESSITY.—The existing Temperance Journals have little, if any, circulation outside of the Temperance Ranks. Their price almost necessarily restricts them to the friends of the cause. The Promibility of the cause of the cause of tracts) among the indifferent and the hostile. For this purpose it is put at a price so low as to enable the friends of Temperance in every school district, by combined action and at an inconsiderable expense, to place a copy in each family that will consent to receive it.

The paper will be under the general direction of the Executive Committee, who have received ample assurances of literary aid from not a few of the ablest and most eminent writers in the temperance ranks throughout the Union.

The work will be stereotyped, and back numbers can be supplied to new subscribers at any time during the year.

All orders should be addressed to O. Scovill, Publishing Agent, Albany.

Communications for the paper, or in relation to the interests of the cause generally, should be directed to Wm. H. Burleigh, Corresponding Secretary.

THE NEW YORK MUSICAL BEVIEW CHORAL ADVOCATE

Is the cheapest and best Musical Paper in the world. This Journal, which has heretofore been published monthly, commences its fifth year in January next, and thenceforward it will be published overy two weeks—on every other Thursday; thereby giving more than twice as much matter, without any increase in price. Each number contains sixteen quarto pages, four of which are new music, consisting of glees, hymn tunes, chants, anthoms, dedication and holyday pieces, and, in short, every variety of music adapted to purposes of religious worship, to public occasions, and to the home circle; all of which will be of a practical character, and such as can be sung by persons of ordinary musical attainments. In the editorial department of the Review are engaged (in addition to Mr Cady, the former editor) gentlemen of the highest talent and ripest musical experience, among whom are George F. Root, William B. Bradbury, Thomas Hastings, and Lowell Mason; and its circle of correspondence, home and foreign, is complete. The Review will also be a regular medium for the announcement of new musical publications by all the leading publishing houses in the is complete. The Review will also be a regular medium for the announcement of new musical publications by all the leading publishing houses in the Union. The subscription list of this paper is now larger than that of any similar journal in the world, and the new arrangements, rendering it the cheapest as well as (it is hoped) the most valuable musical paper ever published, must largely increase its already unparalleled circulation.

Terms.—One dollar per annum, or six copies for five dollars, always in advance.

The music alone in a volume would cost over five dollars in the usual form. Beside this, there will be an immense amount of musical news, essays, catterism, instruction, 4c., 4ll for only one dollar! Every one feeling a particle of interest in the cause of music will surely subscribe.

Specimen numbers sont on receipt of two letter postage stamps. Address, always post paid,

THE CREAT AMERICAN TEMPERANCE TALE THE ARGUMENT.

THE GREAT AMERICAN TEMPERANCE TALE.

THE WEAL AND WOE OF SOCIAL LIFE.

One Volume 12mo, $1. THE object of this tale is to exhibit in different phases, in high life and low life, the accursed effects of intemperate drinking, the bane of social life, the curse of civilized man. The characters are well and sharply drawn, and the various scenes are described with much spirit and graphic effect. *

* We are disposed to regard the book as the best of its kind that has yet appeared.—Boston Traveller.

It is not often that we read a story of any kind, but we have broken our practice, and have read this book not only with pleasure, but with a gratification which but very few novels have ever afforded us. It is a quiet and simple, but still striking and effective picture of American social life.—Chicago Tribune. Written with marked ability .- Zanesville Courier. A thrilling picture of the effects of that informal bane of social life, intemperance.—Richmond Palladrum.

The style is attractive and fascinating; there is a

The style is attractive and fascinating; there is a freshness and originality about it, that is very pleasing. * * * One of its chief merits is the excellence of its conversations.—Enquirer.

Has so many thrilling passages and well-drawn characters, that you read it with absorbed attention. It cannot fail to achieve for Mrs. Collins an enviable popularity. She takes us with her to the drunkard's home, and tells of the hunger and the fear, the toil and the suffering, that are there. She paints, with a woman's delicate skill, the meek patience, the long-abused, but unchanging love of the drunkard's wife, touches the deepest chords of the heart, and makes them vibrate with pity and with indignation. Christian Herald.

Though Mrs. Collins has already hosts of admirers of her literary productions, this work, we predict, will increase that number ten-fold, and give her a reputation worthy of her high talents.—New Albany Tribune.

The style is easy, natural, beautiful, chaste, and at times very eloquent. We would commend it expecially to young ladies, that they may see to what dangers they are exposed, in forming alliances with the fashionable in high life.—Ohio Organ. the fashionable in high life.—Okso Organ.

A deeply interesting and powerful work. It vividly portrays some of the terrific exploits of strong drink in both high and low life. Nor are such scenes as it depicts either imaginary or few. Let this book circulate. It has a beneficent aim, and is the vehicle of admirably old and most salulary lessons.—Preshyterian.

* * Has sketched it in its daintiest form of fascination, as well as in its grim and dismal aspect of open degradation. Rarely has a woman ventured to hold the torch to such a dark recess of human wee.—Daily Times.

We know of no passage, anywhere, more uniqxely beautiful, more intensely absorbing, more overpowering in the pathetic, than the thirty-fourth chapter. It is indeed a gem. We doubt whether the celebrated chapter devoted to the death of Eva, in Uncle Tom's Cabin, is superior. * * It is certainly the most powerful temperance tale that we have ever perused.—Journal and Messenger.

Such a Paper is demand by the Farming Community.

The publishers confidently believe that the agreement of this country are becoming too must awake to the demands of their own calling to be longer satisfied with the slow monthly issues of a paper professedly devoted to their interests, or to trust alone to the irresponsible extracts in a "farmer' column," so popular just now in papers chiefly devoted to business, politics, or literature; and they look for the united support of all the intelligent farmen of this country in their continued effort to farnish a weekly paper of a high and reliable character, which shall be progressive, and at the same time continues and conservative in all its teachings.

Essentially an Agricultural Paper.

The Agriculturist will not depart from its legitimate sphere to catch popular favor by lumbering up its pages, with the silly, fictitious literature, and light, miscellaneous matter of the day; it has a higher aim; and a small part only of its space will be devoted to matters not immediately pertaining to the great business of Agriculture. The household as well as the out-door work of the farm will receive a due share of attention. The humbugs and nostrums affoat in the community will be tried by reliable scientific rales, and their worthlessness exposed. It is the aim of the publishers to keep this paper under the guidance of those who will make it a standard work, which shall communicate to its readers only that which is safe and reliable.

An Independent Journal.

work, which shall communicate to its readers only that which is safe and roliable.

An Independent Journal.

The American Agriculturist stands upon its own merits; and the truthfulness, seal, and ability, which it brings to the support of the interests of the farmer. It is untrammeled by any collateral business connections whatever; nor is it the organ of any clique, or the putting machine of any man or thing. Thoroughly independent in all points, its ample pages are studiously given alone to the support and improvement of the great agriculturist class.

Editorial Department.

The American Agriculturist is under the editorial supervision of Mr. A. B. Allen, its principal editor for the past ten years, and Mr. Orange Judd, A. M., a thoroughly practical farmer and agricultural chemist.

The American Agriculturist is supplied to regular subscribers at a cost of less than four cents a number, of sixteen large pages; and to large clubs for less than two and a half cents. Each number will contain suggestions for the treatment of soils, manues, crops, stock, &c., which will often be worth to the render more than the cost of the paper for a year.

more than the cost of the paper for a year.

Specimen Copies.

Specimen copies will be forwarded, gratis, to any one sending their name and post office address to the publishers.
